PRESENTING OUR INTRODUCTIONS

Truly a new strain of American dahlias which are different; to be identified henceforth as the "EARLY AMERICAN" blood line. These dahlia varieties are so named to recall the past glories of a once proud people, the vanishing American Indian. His "pale-face" brothers may never learn some of the secrets of the Incas, the exact extent of the Aztec civilization, nor the beauty of the Cherokee language. We are proud to remember the good, the greatness of heart and the strength of character among these people by naming our new originations in their memory. Watch for these "Early American" dahlias on the show tables of the nation; and above all, grow them in your dahlia garden this year! The "Early American" dahlias are not expensive. Only $5.00 per root. They are new! They are different! They are unusual!
